The Birth of Christ in Us Is What Matters

*Make ready for the Christ,
Whose smile, like lightning,
Sets free the song of everlasting glory
That now sleeps, in your paper flesh, like dynamite.*

~ Thomas Merton, "The Victory"

Anglican mystic and author Evelyn Underhill (1875–1941) shares her perspective on the importance of Jesus' incarnation and this season in the church's life:

The Christmas Mystery has two parts: the Nativity and the Epiphany. A deep instinct made the Church separate these two feasts. In the first we commemorate God's humble entrance into human life, the emergence and birth of the Holy, and in the second its manifestation to the world, the revelation of the Supernatural made in that life. And the two phases concern our inner lives very closely too. The first only happens in order that the second may happen, and the second cannot happen without the first.

Christ is a Light to lighten the Gentiles as well as the Glory of His people Israel. Think of what the Gentile was when these words were written—an absolute outsider. All cosy religious exclusiveness falls before that thought. The Light of the world is not the sanctuary lamp in your favourite church.

[Underhill] continues by exploring what it means for Christ to be born in our lives:

Beholding His Glory is only half our job. In our souls too the mysteries must be brought forth; we are not really Christians till that has been done. "The Eternal Birth," says [Meister] Eckhart, "must take place in you."

And another mystic says human nature is like a stable inhabited by the ox of passion and the ass of prejudice; animals which take up a lot of room and which I suppose most of us are feeding on the quiet. And it is there between them, pushing them out, that Christ must be born and in their very manger He must be laid—and they will be the first to fall on their knees before Him. Sometimes Christians seem far nearer to those animals than to Christ in His simple poverty, self-abandoned to God.

The birth of Christ in our souls is for a purpose beyond ourselves: it is because His manifestation in the world must be through us. Every Christian is, as it were, part of the dust-laden air which shall radiate the glowing Epiphany of God, catch and reflect His golden Light. Ye are the light of the world—but only because you are enkindled, made radiant by the One Light of the World. And being kindled, we have got to get on with it, be useful. As Christ said in one of His ironical flashes, "Do not light a candle in order to stick it under the bed!" [Mark 4:21] . . .

When you don't see any startling marks of your own religious condition or your usefulness to God, think of the Baby in the stable and the little Boy in the streets of Nazareth. The very life was there which was to change the whole history of the human race.

Amen
Pastor Gail

In Memoriam

Peggy Marie Reiter
January 19, 1950 - November 30, 2021

Peggy at her Birthday Blessing in 2019

Peggy will be sorely missed at St. George's. As pictured at left, she worked with Thelma Sayers to take on the Children's Giving Tree project. Sadly, COVID made it impossible for her to attend church, and she was not able to continue after 2019. Peggy was also active in the choir, lending her sweet, true soprano to the "joyful noise."

May she rest in peace and rise in glory.

Olivia Phelps helped with Advent preparations in the Parish Hall. She also decorated her own nose!

What a blessing to continue to enjoy the serenity of the season in such peaceful surroundings. Thank you, Sue and Jerry—and Olivia.

All the Christmas musicians weren't available for this photo at left, kindly taken by Blake Mecham. Pictured are (left to right) Lise Clark—Director, Leigh Van Sickle—Choir, Janet Mecham—Accompanist, David Jones—Choir, and Myana Clark—Choir.

Myana's Communion solo of "O Holy Night" was outstanding.

While not church related, David gave a terrific performance as Santa in UACT's production of Elf the Musical.

Due to heavy snowfall, Lessons and Carols on Dec. 26 had to be cancelled. Many thanks to Matthew Jackson for this picture of a snowy St. George's on that day!
